

Michael Janssen is Doctor in Law by the University of Freiburg, Germany. He is an administrative officer with the Council of Europe Group of States against Corruption (GRECO) since June 2007 and currently mainly engaged in GRECO's 4th round evaluations, i.e. dealing with the topics of corruption prevention in respect of parliamentarians, judges and prosecutors. He has both German and French nationality and worked previously in a lawyer's office, in the German public administration and in the French-German-Swiss cross-border cooperation before joining the Council of Europe.